Inside Broadway is celebrating its 40th anniversary this year. Students at the East West School of International Studies in Flushing gave a performance recently as part of Inside Broadway's CASA Program, where students performed numbers from Give Our Regards to Broadway and songs from the Broadway Show, Moulin Rouge. Students worked on voice and choreography and performed their pieces on March 17. Since its inception four decades ago, Inside Broadway has impacted nearly 3 million New York City public school kids (many of whom have never experienced a Broadway show), bringing classic Broadway musicals directly into NYC schools' auditoriums to give the students, teachers, and staff a fun, educational, and safe live theatre experience. The nonprofit was first created as a free ticket program at the invitation of the late Bernard Jacobs, President of The Shubert Organization. Through the years, the nonprofit has produced professional tours of classic Broadway musicals directly to school auditoriums throughout the five boroughs through the in-class residency programs, afterschool workshops, summer theatre camp, senior citizen program, and the popular Creating the Magic series. In 2022, the nonprofit will be reaching about 90,000 students in 100 schools in all five boroughs.
